THE TENTH REPORT

OF THE

DEPUTY KEEPER OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS IN IRELAND.

TO THE MOST NOBLE JOHN, DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH, K.G.,

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR GRACE,

Proceedings under the Principal Act.

1. The Judgment Rolls of the Superior Courts of Common Law, which had been left unremoved, owing to the causes specified in my former Reports, have, with the concurrence of the several Masters, been transferred to this custody.

Removal of Judgment Rolls.

See title "Judgment Rolls" in Index.

2. It was not considered necessary to frame Rules of Court to regulate the practice as to making entries of satisfactions, &c., on these Records. The draft order submitted by the Right Honorable the Master of the Rolls to Her Majesty's Judges on the 14th May, 1870, was found adequate to meet all the exigencies of the case. It received his Honor's signature on the 17th April, 1877, and now regulates the practice of this office in affording to the proper officers of the Superior Courts of Law facilities of access to, and means of making entries on, the Rolls of their respective Divisions.

Order regulating Practice, App. I.

3. To insure a regular and responsible execution of these duties, the Masters, in compliance with my request, have severally certified the practice of their Courts, and the names of the officers thereby authorized to make such entries.

Practice certified, App. II.

4. For the convenience of the Masters, they have been supplied with Place-Indexes to the Rolls of their respective Courts, and with Entry Books, in accordance with the provisions of his Honor's order.

Entry Books supplied, App. III.

5. The remaining Rolls of the former Court of Common Pleas (218 in number) were removed between the 7th and 19th February, 1877. They comprise 61 Case Judgment Rolls, from Hilary, 1836, to Michaelmas, 1850; and 157 Debt Judgment Rolls, extending from 1760 to Michaelmas, 1850. The corresponding Judgment Books from 1760 to 1850 have also been transmitted.

Rolls of Court of Common Pleas.

6. The Exchequer Debt Judgment Rolls (750 in number), extending from 1660 to Michaelmas, 1850, were transferred between 5th and 23rd March. The Case Judgments of the same Court (542 in number), extending from Trinity, 1772, to Michaelmas, 1850, were transferred between the 25th September and 8th October, 1877.

Rolls of Court of Exchequer.

Rolls of Court of Queen's Bench.

7. The Queen's Bench collection, comprising 753 Debt Judgment Rolls, extending from Trinity, 1661, to Michaelmas, 1850, was transferred between 11th April and 4th May, 1877. All the foregoing Judgment Rolls were comprised in warrants already issued, but delayed in their complete execution by reason of apprehended difficulties, as above referred to.

8. One hundred and thirty-five entries, comprising Satisfactions, Assignments, &c., under the new practice, have been made on these Common Law Rolls in this Office during the past year; and in no instance has any delay or inconvenience been experienced in consequence of the removal.

No inconvenience experienced.

Accruing Records, Office of Registrar of Judgments.

9. A further collection from the Office of the Registrar of Judgments, comprising Memorandums for the Registration and Re-entry of Judgments, Recognizances, Lis Pendens, &c., lodged from January, 1851, to December, 1856; and for the entry of Satisfactions, Vacates, &c, lodged from 1848 to 1856; together with 33 volumes of Recorded Negative Searches, was transferred to this office on the 24th and 25th July, 1877.

Records of Expired Commissions.

10. Under the operation of the 4th section of the Principal Act, attaching the Records of all Commissions which have ceased to exist, there have also been transferred to this office from the crypt of the Chapel Royal, Dublin Castle, the papers and documents of the Expired Commission on Education in Ireland (1823-28), consisting of 9 bundles of Returns of Educational Statistics and 51 bundles of miscellaneous correspondence respecting endowed and other schools, school-books then in use, &c. Under the same section, the records, maps, and plans of the Irish Railway Commission (1867-8), in 150 bundles, comprising, besides a complete set of the Ordnance Survey Maps of Ireland, much information on River and Canal Navigation, and on the details of construction of the several lines then in existence, have also been brought into this custody from the former Statistics Office, Four Courts.

Commission of Education.

Irish Railway Commission.

11. No actual transmission of State Papers from the Record Tower, Dublin Castle, has taken place during the past year; but it will be seen by the Report of the Keeper, to which I beg leave to refer, that preparations have been matured for the removal to this office of a large consignment of these valuable historic evidences, the receipt of which I hope to acknowledge in my next Report.

App. IV.

Intern.

Deposit of Pleadings, Equity Exchequer completed.

12. The final deposit of the Pleadings of the former Equity side of the Court of Exchequer has been completed. The number of fasciculi of Bills deposited during the year was 2,534 (1808 to 1850, inclusive), and of Answers, 3,359 (1801 to 1850, inclusive). Besides these there were deposited as a separate series 565 fasciculi of Bills filed for recovery of Tithes (1833-38). Eighteen bundles of fragments of Bills and Answers, dating from 1806 to 1846, and 29 bundles of undated Pleadings have been collected and arranged as far as was practicable. These also are kept in a separate series.

13. The deposit, in dictionary order, of the Cause papers from the office of J. J. Murphy, Esq., formerly Master in Chancery, continues. Five hundred and seventy-one bundles have been opened and arranged into 6,222 causes. Chancery Cause Papers.

14. The Dublin Consistorial Court papers, from A to L inclusive, have been put into dictionary order under the titles of their respective causes, forming 2,801 Cause-bundles. Dublin Consistory Cause Papers.

15. The Fiants for Letters Patent, from file 60 to file 62 A, Charles I., have been cleansed, flattened, and placed in portfolios. Fiants cleansed, &c.

16. Forty bundles of miscellaneous Inquisitions, Commissions, Patents, Decrees, &c., of the collection removed from the Rolls Office, have undergone the same process. Inquisitions, &c., cleansed.

17. The other documents cleansed, flattened, and arranged in order of date during the year, include Administration and Marriage License Bonds (Killala, Achonry, Killaloe, and Tuam) Writs de Lunatico Inquirendo, Orders for Writs, Apostles, Scire Facias, and Election Returns from the Office of the Crown and Hanaper. Other Records cleansed.

18. The deposit of Inventions-Patents proceeds as usual. Inventions Patents.

19. In the Bookbinding department 62 volumes of Parochial Registry Books, 4 vols. of Duplicates of Conveyances of Quit-Rent, 1 Prerogative Index, 1 Index for the Diocese of Down, 1 Index for the Diocese of Armagh and Drogheda, 28 Fiants of Edward VI., 39 Fiants of Elizabeth, and 8 Wills have been repaired, and 692 Membranes of Plea Rolls have been flattened, pressed, and repaired. Bookbinding Repairing, &c.

20. In my Report for the year 1871, I referred to the large mass of Agricultural Statistical Returns which had come into this custody, partly from the collections of the Custom House under the provisions of the Public Records (Ireland) Act, 1867, sec. IV., and partly from the collections which, after the deposit at the Custom House, had accumulated at the former offices of the Registrar-General. On a proposal being made to send in a further accumulation, it was considered proper to direct the attention of the Irish Government to a question affecting their admissibility in evidence, as having been obtained on representations which appeared to give them the character of privileged communications. A case having been submitted to the Solicitor-General, he advised that, owing to the terms of the circular inviting information, the Returns are not admissible under our existing law in any court or judicial proceeding. It was, therefore, determined by Her Majesty's Irish Government that they should be handed over to the Stationery Office to be converted into pulp; and, with the sanction of the Master of the Rolls, I have intimated to the Contoller that I am prepared to hand over these documents. Report V., Sec. 53. Agricultural Statistics.

Indexing.

21. The 2nd volume of the Consolidated Index to the Records of the Court of Chancery has been continued to p. 224. Court of Chancery.

Diocese of Down.

22. The Index to the original Wills of the Diocese of Down has been completed.

Prerogative.

23. A copy has been made of the Index to the Prerogative Wills, Administrations, &c., letters F to M, 1831–40, the original having been much injured by use. Other volumes of the same index will have to be copied, as they are rapidly approaching the like condition.

Calendar Patent Rolls, James I.

24. Progress has been made with the draft index to the calendar of the Patent Rolls of James I.

Testamentary.

25. There have been added to the indexes of the original Wills of the Diocese of Ardagh, Ardfert, Cork, Dublin, and Kildare, the addresses of the testators. The place-references to the original wills have been added to the indexes of the Diocese of Ardagh, Ardfert, Armagh, Clogher, Cloyne, Connor, Cork, Derry, Dromore, Killala, Killaloe, Leighlin, Limerick, Meath, Ossory, Raphoe, Tuam, and Waterford. An index has been made to the Writs, Inquisitions, and other documents "de Lunatico Inquirendo" removed from the Hanaper Office, Chancery. For the use of the public and the officers engaged in the search-room an index, in dictionary order, has been made to the several parishes of Ireland, showing what registers have been removed, with the period over which the entries of baptisms, marriages, and deaths extend, with their place-indications in the Record Treasury. I also beg leave to refer to a general index to my Reports, Sixth to Tenth, both inclusive, which will be found in the Appendix.

Proceedings under the Parochial Records (Ireland) Act, 1867; Amendment Act, 1875, 38 & 39 Vic. c. 59, and Parochial Records Act, 1876, 39 & 40 Vic. c. 58.

Report IX., Pars. 23-25.

Proceedings on outstanding Warrant.

29. The warrant of the Master of the Rolls, dated 15th May, 1876, which had been issued for the removal of the Parochial Records of the several Parishes then attachable, remained unexecuted as mentioned in my last Report, owing to the power of retention by the Parochial Records Act, 1876, subsequently (11th August) given to such custodians as should provide suitable repositories in their respective parishes. The last Act also excepted from the operation of the Warrant all Vestry Books, except such as contain entries of baptisms, marriages, or deaths. It consequently became necessary to enter into correspondence with the several Custodians to ascertain the nature of their repositories, and the existence, or otherwise, of such entries in their Vestry Books.

Queries as to Vestry Books generally not answered.

Returns of preparation for continued custody.

30. The Act gave no power of enforcing information with respect to the Vestry Books, and the queries transmitted in that respect, remained generally unanswered. A time had been limited within which Custodians should make their returns of the steps taken for providing suitable Repositories, and on its expiration (1st March, 1877), it was found that Repositories, such as would prima facie warrant this office in calling for an inspection by the officer of the Board of Works, with a view to Retention Orders, had been provided in 219 cases.

App. V.

First requisition for inspection.

App. VI.

31. A Requisition was thereupon addressed to the Commissioners of Works requesting an inspection of those Repositories; in compliance with which the Commissioners, with the concurrence of the Master of the Rolls, settled a form of report to be filled up by their inspecting officers.

Removal of the Parochial Records.

32. A considerable time being required for these inspections, it was deemed expedient to proceed with the execution of the Warrant in those parishes which had made no return of suitable Repositories. The Act had not provided any means of obliging the

Printed image digitised by the University of Southampton Library Digitisation Unit

Custodians to transmit their books; and, in the occasional transmissions made by Custodians for their own convenience, books not within the Warrant, and which had to be returned, were almost always included. Neither could it be determined otherwise than by inspection, whether the Vestry Books were of such a character as would bring them within the exemption of the Act. An order of the Master of the Rolls, accommodated to this state of facts, was made on the 15th May, 1877, excepting such Vestry Books from the Warrant already issued; and a form of receipt, adapted to the like contingency, having been prepared, a personal visitation of all the Repositories of removable Parochial Records was commenced on 11th June, 1877.

Order by the Master of the Rolls excepting Vestry Books from Warrant, 15th May, 1877. App. VII. Form of receipt. App. VIII.

33. A short experience made it apparent that the service should be performed by officers capable of determining questions of some difficulty, and of overcoming dilatory objections. The Parochial Officers, in some cases, desired to retain their records for the purpose of transcription; in others, to consult their select vestries; in others, to take the directions of their bishops; and in others, to make appointments for dates different from those notified for the visits. In some cases new Incumbents had come in since the date of the Warrant, and were unaware of the correspondence which had taken place between this office and their predecessors, and, not unfrequently, the Parochial Officer when waited on, pursuant to previous notification, was absent. These, and other difficulties of detail, were so dealt with as to consult the convenience of the Custodians as far as could be done consistently with the prompt execution of the Warrant; the officers, however, in all cases, declining to enter on discussions with any other authorities than the Parochial Officers themselves.

Warrant personally executed by officers of the Public Record Office.

Difficulties experienced.

34. It appeared that in numerous instances suitable Repositories had been provided, but had not been notified to the office, as directed, and had consequently been omitted from the requisition for inspection. This office having no authority to judge of the adequacy of the arrangements, the Records were in all such cases removed, subject to be returned in the event of such a Report by the inspecting officer, as might warrant a Retention Order; and for the purpose of obtaining such Reports supplemental Requisitions were, from time to time, addressed to the Commissioners of Public Works.

Practice where Repositories provided, but not notified.

Supplemental requisitions for Inspections. App. IX.

35. It also appeared that, with scarcely an exception, entries of baptisms, marriages, and burials, had been continued in the books which were in use at the time of the disestablishment. Preparation had been made for the supply of a limited number of substitute books in cases where the removal of those so in use might cause exceptional inconvenience; but the usage appeared so general that it was found necessary, with the sanction of the Lords of the Treasury, to provide a further supply, and such substitutes have been handed to the Custodians in almost every case of removal.

Report X., Par. 24.

Further provision of Substitute Books.

36. The books, as taken up, were transmitted from time to time by railway parcel. This exception to the general rule, Transmission by Railway.

Printed image digitised by the University of Southampton Library Digitisation Unit which requires a personal custody by some servant of the office in every removal of a record, was sanctioned by the Master of the Rolls, in consideration of the diminished expense, and has not been attended with any material inconvenience. In those instances where custodians were absent from home at the time of the officer's visit, or occasioned other temporary difficulty by which the local collection failed, they have been invited to adopt this course of transmission, and informed that the carriers' receipt forwarded to this office will exonerate the sender from further liability under the warrant.

Practice where local collection failed.

37. Pending these proceedings under the warrant of 15th May, 1876, a further large number of Repositories became attachable by reason of intervening deaths and changes of incumbencies. The machinery provided by the Amendment Act for apprising this office of such changes has not been effectual. Very few notices of cesser of duties have been returned by out-going incumbents, and the local registrars, although entitled to a fee on transmitting certificates of deaths of parochial officers, have generally omitted to do so. Directories and local inquiry have supplied the necessary information for the issue of a second Consolidated Warrant affecting the Records of one hundred and thirty-eight parishes in one hundred and twenty-five repositories which received the signature of the Master of the Rolls on the 17th December, 1877. It has been framed under the law as modified by the Parochial Records Act, 1876, and provides for the removal of the vestry books comprised in it, conditionally on their being found to contain entries bringing them within the operation of the Act.

Machinery of the Act as to Cesser of duties and deaths of parochial officers inoperative.

Further consolidated Warrant, 17th December, 1877.

App. X.

Its provisions as to Vestry Books.

38. The same steps towards learning the nature and sufficiency of the Repositories, as described in my last Report, with respect to the warrant of 15th May, 1876, have been taken under that of 17th December, 1877; and it is expected that the several cases for inspection arising under it will be ascertained in sufficient time to enable this office to proceed with the removal of the other Parochial Records affected by it early in the current year.

Proceedings thereon. Report IX., par. 23, et seq.

39. Besides the cases affected by these Consolidated Warrants some others of an exceptional nature have arisen, for which occasional Warrants, specially framed, have been issued.

Exceptional cases provided for by special forms. App. XI.

40. The Reports of Inspections so far received have been generally favourable. At the close of 1877 the Master of the Rolls, acting on these reports, had issued Retention Orders, permitting the Parochial Records of one hundred and forty-six parishes, &c., to remain in the local custodies, subject to the obligation on custodians of making annual reports on the condition of their collections, as directed by the Act.

Retention Orders under 39 & 40 Vic. c. 58, s. 5. App. XII.

41. The local custody has been determined on the basis of the parochial areas as they existed at the time of the disestablishment, without regard to subsequent changes. The Act authorizing retention on the provision of suitable accommodation, requires that the Repository shall be within the parish to which the Records belong. Hence it has been necessary to remove the books of some parishes, which, since 30th December, 1870, have been united by the Church of Ireland to other parishes having suitable repositories.

Removal of Parochial Records of Parishes included in recent Unions.

42. The Warrant of 15th May, 1876, modified by the exception from it of the cases of Retention Orders, and of Reports on which further Retention Orders may be grounded, has been carried into effect by the removal to this custody of the Parochial Records of the several parishes, &c., set forth in the annexed schedule. It is of importance that inquirers should know to what Repository, whether here or in the country, they should resort; and that this information, which is of a fluctuating character, should be brought down to the latest practicable date. The schedule accordingly shows the state of the Parochial Record collections as they exist here at the date of this Report, and includes all the books containing entries of baptisms, marriages, or burials, which may now be consulted here by whatever authority they have been brought in. The Records of all Parishes, &c., not appearing in the schedule, must be consulted at the Local Repositories, and inquirers must bear in mind that those of some parishes, marked in the schedule with an asterisk, are only here pending Reports on which Retention Orders may soon issue, and that all are liable to be returned to the Local Custodians, in the event of suitable Repositories being hereafter provided.

Removal of Parochial Records under Warrant of 15th May, 1876.

APPENDIX IV.

To the Right Honorable the MASTER OF THE ROLLS—THE TENTH REPORT of SIR BERNARD BURKE, C.B., Ulster, Keeper of the State Papers in the Record Tower, Dublin Castle, dated 1st February, 1878.

SIR,—The Public Records (Ireland) Act was passed in 1867, and the first decade of its operation is just completed. During the ten years that have thus elapsed, it may be confidently asserted that the expectations with reference to our National Muniments have been fully realized. Under the able guidance and skilful direction of the Deputy Keeper, Dr. Ferguson, Q.C., the Public Record Office, at the Four Courts, has been organised and arranged, and now forms a public depository of records which may bear comparison with any in the three kingdoms. During the same period the State Paper Department under my control has carried out the requirements of the Act by the transfer of the Plea, Pipe, and other Rolls of the Bermingham Tower, the papers and documents of the Parliamentary Office, and the papers and proceedings of the Record Commissioners, in addition to the arrangement, classification, indexing, &c., of a vast mass of most interesting State Papers, referred to in my previous Reports. While these transfers were being arranged and made, State Papers of great value and extent have been received, put in order, indexed, and prepared for eventual transfer, and such a comprehensive arrangement made of the modern State Papers as will, it is expected, enable the Department to answer without delay Governmental inquiries, now of very frequent occurrence, and to produce readily documents asked for. In my last Report (9th) I have mentioned that the work of indexing the "Miscellaneous Papers" of the years 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, and 1827, had been finished, and that the displaced documents of each of those years had been restored. During the past year the "Miscellaneous Papers" of 1828 and 1843 have been indexed in slips and secured in cartons, and the displaced documents have been put into their proper bundles.

The "Bermingham Tower Room" and the "Parliamentary Record Office No. 6," which have been adjusted for the purpose, are now completely filled with 903 cartons, containing part of the series of 1821 to 1864. Of this series 227 bundles, which were prepared during the past year, are also ready for cartons, when a further supply shall be received. There only remain of the whole series, the papers of the years 1830 to 1839 inclusive, as well as the unindexed "Miscellaneous Papers" of the years 1846 to 1864 inclusive, to wind up the collection. Having in view the adjustment of the "State Paper Room No. IV.," for the reception of the remainder of these Papers, I have prepared this year, and have now ready for transfer to the Public Record Office, 632 MS. BOOKS OF ENTRIES CIVIL AND MILITARY, which have heretofore been kept in this State Paper Room.

In furtherance of my desire to transfer, as quickly as a due performance of my duties will permit, the regular sequence of historical documents here, I have carefully examined the BOOKS OF THE COMMONWEALTH, preparatory to the transmission of this series to the Public Record Office, but I find indexes are required for several of the volumes. During the past year such indexes have been compiled to six of these volumes. The indexes of two other volumes of the collection are in progress and nearly complete.

I feel it incumbent on me, now that my examination of this most interesting series of Commonwealth papers is fresh on my mind, to describe as minutely as possible a series of documents and entries which tends so materially to throw light on an important period of our history.

COMMONWEALTH SERIES.

The Books of the Government of the Commonwealth in Ireland consist of 55 MS. volumes, folio size, in excellent preservation, commencing in the year 1650, and ending in the year 1659, thus embracing the entire period of the Commonwealth rule in this country. The whole of these volumes, which were in a very dilapidated condition, I have had re-bound, under my own inspection, in this Tower.

The Government was administered in the name of the Parliament of England by Commissioners, called "Commissioners of the Parliament of England for the Affairs of Ireland," formed into a Council Board consisting of the Lord Deputy and the other Commissioners, with powers over the Irish almost unlimited.

Their ORDERS, DECLARATIONS, AND PROCLAMATIONS seem to have had the force of law. The Council Board sat ordinarily at Cork House, or the Castle of Dublin, but made occasional tours, and sat more than once at Kilkenny and Athlone. Colonel Thomas Herbert was Clerk of the Council during the whole Commonwealth rule in Ireland, and certified every order. There are 4 volumes of his Minute Books, in short hand, or rather a contracted form, not difficult to decipher. These Minutes seem to have been handed, with the original petitions and papers used in support of the petitions, to his clerks, and from them the orders were drawn out at length and the entries engrossed, as now found in the Entry Books.

Of the 35 volumes of the records of this Government above mentioned there are 22 volumes of the Orders of the Commissioners for the Affairs of Ireland. They commence on 3rd February, 1651, and end in 1659. They include a most extraordinary variety of subjects; for, besides the daily routine of every Government, the Commissioners had the regulation of the setting down of the soldiers as planters, and were required to arrange and settle the differences between the several regiments and companies in their disputes concerning lands, and those which arose between the soldiers and adventurers, who were joint settlers with the soldiery. They had also to effect the transplantation of the Irish into Connaught, and to answer all the petitions of the Irish.

Next in importance to these Order Books are the TREASURY WARRANTS, contained in 5 volumes. They extend from the year 1651 to 1658; but the books of 1654 and 1655 are wanting.

There are, next, 6 volumes with Civil Lists and Establishments, including the salaries of the State, the Judges, Ministers of the Gospel, Schoolmasters, and Pensioners, besides one volume confined exclusively to pensions to Soldiers' Widows and Orphans. These volumes include the period between 1654 and 1658.

There are 5 volumes in the class of Letter Books, but they differ very much in character. Two of these volumes are entitled "Domestic Correspondence." The letters they contain embrace the period from 1651 to 1654, and comprise the correspondence of the Council with His Highness the Lord Protector, the Council of State, the Lord Deputy, the Commanders of the Army in the field (such, for instance, as Sir Charles Coote, Colonel Venables, Colonel Sankey, and other commanders) with the Commissioners of Revenue of the 15 different Precincts whose powers and duties were most extensive and multifarious, and with many other officers and other persons. They furnish very interesting information, and it is greatly to be regretted that the series comprises only the first four years of the Commonwealth rule.

Besides these two Volumes of "Domestic Correspondence," there are two Volumes entitled "Letters from the Lord Protector, Council of State or Parliament of England."

These are Warrants addressed to the Commissioners for the Affairs of Ireland in favour of particular individuals for grants of lands or of particular bodies, as for instance for the Corporations of Liverpool and Gloucester to be satisfied for their losses incurred in the Civil War in England out of forfeited house property in Galway, &c.

These Letters refer to the period between 1654 and 1658.

The remaining Volume of Letters entitled "From the Parliament of England and Council of State," concern the closing days of the Commonwealth Rule. These Letters commence on the 7th of May, 1659, and end on the 11th of October in the same year, and are few, not above 25.

The Entries of the Letters comprised in these three last mentioned Volumes, which are on larger paper than the others, are engrossed with great care.

There are two Volumes entitled respectively, "Grants of Lands," and "Orders for Land." The first Volume is for the period from 4th August, 1656, to 26th April, 1658, and consists of special grants in pursuance of Orders of Parliament to officers and other distinguished persons, setting forth the full particulars of the Lands and the tenure.

The other Volume comprises Orders regulating the differences between the several regiments and companies, concerning their allotments of land, commencing with the 15th February, 1653, and ending with the 18th of April, 1659. At the conclusion of the Volume there is a separate collection of Orders made with reference to the several compositions of Royalist Protestant Landed Proprietors, who compounded for the forfeiture of their Estates by a fine under an order of the Lord Protector made in 1654 for their relief.

Another Volume presents a Rentroll of Lands and Houses belonging to His Highness the Lord Protector and the Commonwealth. It gives the Rent of Forfeited Houses in Corporations, and the Lands within their Liberties for the year 1657-1658.

These were reserved from being set out to the soldiers, and were the property of the State, and as such leased by the Commissioners for the Affairs of Ireland from year to year.

Two other Volumes contain copies of "Commissions and Instructions from the Parliament or from His Highness the Lord Protector and Council of State." They comprise the period between 1650 and 1659, being the whole of the rule of the Commonwealth in Ireland.

All the foregoing Volumes concern the general administration of the Government. Those that are still to be described have regard almost exclusively to the proceedings of the Commissioners for the Affairs of Ireland concerning the Irish.

First of these is a Volume of "Transplanters' Certificates of the Precinct of Limerick," being an account furnished by each Proprietor about to be transplanted into Connaught of himself, his family, his stock of horses, sheep and cattle, and the sown crops he was then leaving behind in the ground.

Printed image digitised by the University of Southampton Library Digitisation Unit

Also a list of those friends or tenants that intended to accompany him into Connaught.

Theso certificates are dated December, 1653. Similar returns were made from each of the 15 Precincts, but this Volume is the only one remaining in this department, but one or two others are to be found in the Public Record Office.

Another volume is entitled Examinations concerning the "Delinquency of Proprietors of Land within the Precinct of Athlone." These must have been taken about the year 1654, and are the original returns made by William Haydon the examiner as testified by his seal affixed to each witness's answers.

There were 13 questions for the examiner to put to each witness intended to bring forth the complicity of the Proprietors in the Rebellion or war of 1641-1652.

Similar Books must have been prepared for each of the 15 Precincts and formed part of the books and papers which were used by the Commissioners of the Court of Claims at the Restoration, called "Discrimination Books" for barring the claims of the Irish to Innocence in that Court.

They were all deposited on the closing of that Court in 1669, in the Council Office, then kept in Essex-street, and were there burnt with a vast body of documents of a like nature in the great fire of 1711.

Another volume entitled "Forfeiting Proprietors in the Counties of Louth, Kildare, Longford, Kilkenny and Wexford, in Leinster; Cork and Kerry in Munster; and Fermanagh, Tyrone, Cavan, Donegal, Monaghan, and Londonderry in Ulster," was made up on 27th January, 1657.

It gives little more than is to be found in the Public Record Office in the Books of Distribution made up after the close of the Court of Claims in 1669 pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Settlement passed in 1662.

The last volume of this series of the Books and Records of the Commonwealth to be noticed is entitled "Mallow Proceedings," commencing tho 27th of June and ending 27th September, 1656. It contains the proceedings of the Court erected at Mallow for trying the qualifications of the Irish Inhabitants of Cork, Kinsale and Youghal, who, after defending these places against the Irish, during the war, were driven out by the garrisons on their revolt to Cromwell in December, 1649. The Irish inhabitants, for their singular fidelity to the English, were excepted from the rest of the Nation, and, instead of being sent into Connaught at once, were retained for a special Sessions at Mallow.

The proceedings are minutely detailed and give a very curious picture of this very remarkable event.

Having thus endeavoured to give some insight into the books of the Commonwealth, I will proceed with a description of the Books of Entries of the Civil and Military class which have been duly prepared and are in a state ready for transfer to the Public Record Office.

Sir,—Referring to my letter of the 13th March last and Schedule thereto, of Parochial Record Repositories, represented to the Right Hon. the Master of the Rolls as being proper for inspection under the provisions of the above Act, I beg to state that since that date it has been found that the several Repositories in the subjoined list are also fit for like inspection; and I am to request that the Commissioners of Public Works may be pleased to cause inspection and Reports to be made in their regard respectively, as if they had been included in the Schedule above referred to.
